

A NEW AND MUCH ADMIRE'D SONG

Call'd the three

LOVERS TRIP TO CARRICKMAGAT
BY MICHAEL DAILY

Come all you wild young rakish lads, in country and in town
Come listen & I'll tell you how I was taken down,
I had a sweet heart Mary she was proper trim & fat
And she left me to remember her & the fair of Carrickmagat

It was on a saturday eveing as we walk'd to take the air,
She ask'd me very kindly would I go to the fair, a
O yes my dear I will be there I have a horse to sell,
And we'll hook it to America in hopes there to do well,

Next day I went to Sligo town respectable to be
And in a shop call'd Larri's Burk's I laid out guineas three,
I bought a coat at two pound ten besides anew white hat,
And a watch to for to cut a dash at the fair of Carrickmagat

Next day it being the fair day snre I made no delay,
I met my darling Mary as I went along the way,
She says Jonney dear do not refuse the very first c once that runs,
For fear you freinds might get the hint & a ter you might come

Then I sold my horse for 20 pounds the moment I went there,
And into Ballisadare that night we straitway drd repair,
And we drank away that eveing no parents did we daead,
And she nock'd me off with whiskey & put me into bed,

Next by the break of day this fair one she arose,
She stole my hat & 20 ponnd & bundle'd up hev closth,
I was straitway into Sligo town tois fair one she did float,
And went & paid her passage that moment in the boat,

That morning then when I arose and found she was urt there,
I ask'd the woman of the house where was my Mary dear
She answer'd with such surprize I could not say this or that,
Saying she is gone the dogers house to block your white hat,

I had a faeind a Police man in the town of Ballisadare,
I went and ask'd him had he anny thing he lend me for to wear,
He gave to me one of his caps with a peak both broad ann flat
It was as queer exchang my boys instead of new white hat

It was straitway into Slige town I quickly took my way,
The steamer it was started as I went unto the quay,
She says dear Jonny if you were here I would give you that,
You might think upon your Mary and the faia of Carrickmagat

He say's my darling Mary how coule you prove unceind,
Or to one that love'd you dearly how could you chang your mind,
If You'd come bask I'd marry yhu and baing me back my money and bat,
And I will have you dress'd in silks next year at the fair of Car rickmavatt,
